“ I will remember Millie as a true teacher at heart. Millie worked as a part time teacher for a specific population of students at Waiau. This allowed her to visit many different classrooms. I was fortunate to get to know Millie better when she worked with one of my students. She sat and listened while I taught. One day she came up to me to tell me that she enjoyed my writing lesson. Millie was so impressed with the lesson that she even shared what she learned to her dentist! Millie always carried a notebook with her to capture the special learning moments on paper or when her students say something funny, she'd jot it down. She was a lifelong learner. Millie was so crafty. She made a honu pillow for my daughter when she was first born. The pillow is still on the couch six years later, well loved. Millie also made the best potato salad! Yummy! She was so generous to share her potato salad and her recipe with me. Each time I make her recipe of potato salad, I will be reminded of Millie and her kind heart. Millie touched many lives, students as well as teachers. She will be missed. May you rest in peace, Millie.

“ I would like to offer my condolences to the Higa family. Our hearts are broken when someone we love has died. Martha, Lazarus's sister, felt that way.

Even their friend Jesus Christ. Yet, he brought the family much comfort by resurrecting Lazarus to live again on earth. John 11:11-45, www.jw.org

What Jesus did is such a blessing for us because loved ones that are now dead will hear his voice in the future and will live again.

John 5:28-29

The meek will possess the earth and they will find exquisite delight in the abundance of peace. The righteous will possess the earth and they will live forever on it.

When you think of your dear Mother, please know that the God of all comfort,

Jehovah, can give you strength in your time of sorrow and please don't forget the loving future that is promised. Psalms 37:11, 29; Isaiah 12:2-5
